

KONZERT 16.03.2017 // Druckerei // Doors: 19.30 Uhr // Start: 20.30 Uhr
<https://www.facebook.com/events/1662912114014213/>

LINGUA NADA

<https://www.facebook.com/linguanada/>
<https://linguanada.bandcamp.com>

"It's no surprise that upcoming cities like Leipzig offers us rad bands such as Lingua Nada. Often described as loud, noisy and complex, maybe borderline, the hyperactive quartet abuses pedals and effects to generate thousands of sounds to create an electric mix of garage, mathrock, shoegaze, posthardcore, 90s indie rock, all this with over-catchy pop hooks fed into a ridiculous amount of fuzz and noise gluing it all together when played insaneley loud with a wild stage presence."

JAGUWAR

<https://www.facebook.com/jaguwarmusic/>
<https://jaguwar.bandcamp.com>

"Shoegaze some says. Well, there is shoegaze and shoegaze. Under their very glittery MBV look, Jaguwar hides a heavyness that no other band of the genre has achieved. Blending sonic perfection with insane noises Jaguwar proposes a violent shoegaze drowned in beautiful female vocals. It's like a giant werewolf covered with pink make-up."

FLUTEN

<https://www.facebook.com/fluten/>

<https://fluten.bandcamp.com>

„Die Wurzeln im Post-Hardcore, die Fühler in Richtung Neuland ausgestreckt, kombinieren FLUTEN das, was zunächst einmal nach Widerspruch aussieht: Elektro und Gitarre, fünf Achtel und Melodie, Dissonanz und Pop. Zwischen Krach und Feingefühl schaffen FLUTEN Tanzbarkeit mit Brüchen und Kanten. Ohne den ewigen Blick auf den Refrain, ohne Abnicken und es-wird-schon-werden-Haltung. Auch: Punk. Doch ohne Parole, und ganz sicher ohne Zeigefinger.“

